THE MOTHER PORT OF THE GULF

The Emirate of Fujairah is one of the seven members of the United Arab Emirates. It is also recognized as one of the most, scenically beautiful and historically, most interesting. Fujairah has no deserts and no oil. It does have a rapidly developing economy, with its own facilities and infrastructure catering for the businessman as well as tourists. Since construction began in 1981, the port has been considered as an important cornerstone of the Emirates development plans.

The Port was completed in 1983, and a Management Contract with the Port of Felixstowe, Britain's premier private Port, ensured a location, equipment, and experienced management offered an immediately attractive option to the world's Container Lines.

Within months of the container facilities being completed, American President Lines chose the Port of Fujairah to be their Middle East 'Hub'. In 1989, A.P.L. renewed their agreement with the Port for a further 5 years, as a sure sign of the Port's ability to perform. 1989 also saw C.M.B., the Belgian Line opting to use Fujairah. With both services now calling Fujairah weekly, the Port can offer traders weekly services to and from world-wide markets.

Currently placed 60th in the World Container Ports League, the unprecedented growth in volumes during 1990 is certain to push Fujairah up amongst the top 40. Fujairah International Airport was officially opened in 1987, giving the Emirate a complete Sea/Air facility. 1990 will see the Port of Fujairah handle almost 20 million kilos, which is a regional record.

Whilst majoring on container handling, the Port of Fujairah has earned a reputation for being a multi-purpose facility that can accommodate the need of ship owners as well as cargo owners.

PORT OF FUJAIRAH

FEEDER FOCUS FOR MIDDLE EAST, SUB CONTINENT RED SEA AND EAST AFRICA THE MOTHER PORT OF THE GULF

The advantage of the geographical location of the Port of Fujairah, outside the Straits of Hormuz, was brought to the fore during the Iraq-Iran conflict. In conjunction with this, shipping lines were also looking at rationalizing their services in all of the world markets.

Fujairah offered an ideal opportunity to cover the Middle East, East Africa, Red Sea and Sub Continent markets from a single base port. Realizing this potential, the port was equipped with modern third generation cargo and container handling equipment. Two 45 Ton capacity container gantry cranes were commissioned in August 1983, along with a completely equipped container terminal. The obvious advantages soon began to reap the expected benefits.

In February 1984, just five months after commissioning the cranes, American President Lines announced its intention to use Fujairah as its base port for the Middle East the sub continent and Red Sea. During the late eighties many Shipping Lines operating in the Arabian Gulf instigated plans for a Main Line ("Mother") Port of call. Fujairah was of course the obvious choice with excellent highways to all Gulf Inland points: Oman, Qatar, Saudi Arabia, and Kuwait. Regular common carrier feeder services also operated from the port to Pakistan, India, Oman, Colombo and the Northern Gulf countries, Red Sea. The following lines now use the Port-American President Lines, National Shipping Corporation of Saudi Arabia, Compagnie Maritime Belge N.V., Antwerpen, Merzario Maritima, Normunda Line, Pakistan National Shipping Corporation Ceylon Shipping Corporation, West Asia Kontena Line, Orient Express Line, and Seacrest Shipping. Internationally, the mode of transportation has been dominated by containerization, and it is in this area that the Port is excelling. It is already in the top 60 container ports of the world according to Containerization International and 3rd in the Middle East and Near East (1989). The Handling rates are always improving with a present average of 25 moves per crane per hour. Added to this, the Port offers excellent support services. A container freight station handles the devanning and vanning of containers where cargoes are consolidated and repacked for different destinations. Sea/Air freight is also increasing, 1990 being a record with almost 20,000 tons. Full refrigerated container facilities are offered at the Port with 168 container plug in points. Experienced and qualified maintenance staff ensure that reefer containers are in full working order, cleaned and pre-tripped for their immediate use.

With this promising start, Fujairah has attracted the attention of many of the major shipping lines. Again, the location of Fujairah Port coupled with an already established feeder service makes it the ideal point for a "Mother Port". During 1984, the Government was approached to further extend berths, improve and maintain the dredged depth and expand container handling facilities to allow better utilization of the multi-purpose terminal. The container handling capacity of the Port was further enhanced by the addition of a 3rd Ship to Shore Gantry crane in June 1989. This was to accommodate the increasingly larger vessels being positioned on our trade routes and to allow increased flexibility in different product-handling, in light of the Port's commitment to diversification. These extensions have now been completed and the Port offers a multi-purpose facility with deep and shallow berths and specialized loading facilities. The statistics prove that the continued efforts of the Port to diversify have succeeded, and that non-containerized cargo at the Port continues to grow, and play an important part in the overall development.

With clear, deep waters and a depth of 17 meters outside the port breakwaters, an approaching Channel is unnecessary and all types of vessels can safely come to within one mile of the port before requiring pilotage.

The port entrance has a natural depth of 12.5 meters and there are full navigational aids and lights with a beacon at the end of the north breakwater.

Another prominent landmark is a TV mast with two high intensity lights that flash white every two seconds. The pilot board incoming vessels near the fairway buoy should 1.25 miles and 165 degrees from the south breakwater head.

OIL POLLUTION CONTROL FUJAIRAH TERRITORIAL WATERS AND COAST LINE.

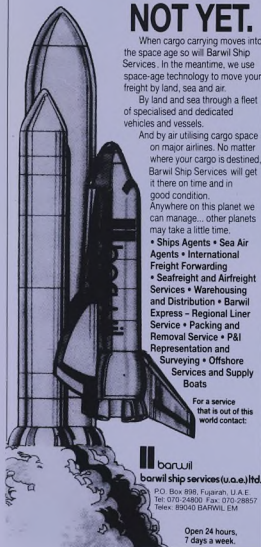

The pollution of national waters and coastlines by petroleum hydrocarbons, chemical waste and general garbage is a by-product of the modern age and is by no means unique to the Emirate of Fujairah. Marine environmental pollution is a problem facing every nation whose borders are bound by the oceans, the sea or by any other navigable waters. Major pollution disasters such as the EXXON VALDEZ, KHARG V and ARAGON that have made world headlines illustrate the real threat.

A disaster of such magnitude would have a calamitous effect should it occur off Fujairah and the pollutants reach the national coastline. The resultant damages to the ecology and environment would take years to repair. The Marine Department of the Port Authority makes inspections twice a week of the offshore anchorages by boat, and aircraft covering Kalba, Fujairah, Khorfakkan and Dibba territorial waters. In addition, all supply boat operators, based in Fujairah Port advise their Masters to police the area. This is very effective and Authority is most grateful for their co-operation.

The general tidal movement in this area is from the East and South East. Positioned 4.5 miles South East of Fujairah Port is the vessel 'ABU AHMED' owned by the Fujairah Bunkering Company.

This vessel is a specialized slop treatment unit and considered a 'Gulf Environmental Protection Vessel'. Apart from her normal operational duties the 'ABU AHMED' is ideally positioned to make early sightings of inbound pollution. This statute is, BY NO MEANS, intended to discourage your principals from operating in Fujairah waters, neither is it intended to hamper or impose petty restrictions on your activities. It is the intention, however, to indicate to the international seafaring community, that the Government of Fujairah is wholly committed to making the oceans of the world a cleaner and safer environment. By making ship operators aware of the Fujairah Government's dedication to this aim, and to the horrendous penalties of liability, is a further step forward towards the reduction of the evils of sea pollution.

DIBBA SEA PORT

Dibba Sea Port is situated to the east of Dibba town on the north facing coastline of Dibba Bay. It was designed in 1982 by Sir William Halcrow and Partners by the instructions from His Highness Shaikh Rashid Bin Saeed Al Maktoum, the Ruler of Dubai, and completed in 1984. The harbour is protected by two breakwaters. The main breakwater extends northwards for approximately 800 metres from the shoreline thus giving protection from the east. The secondary breakwater, situated to the west, extends north then eastwards giving protection from the west and northwest. The harbour entrance is situated facing north northwest with approximately 310 metres of deep water clearance between the roundheads. In the southwest of the harbour a quay wall is constructed with cope level of 3.6 metres above MLWS. The construction is prefabricated concrete blocks, with timber fendering and extends north/south for 150 metres. The western half of the inner basin including the quay face area has been dredged to some 6M. ACD. The south and eastern limits of the harbour shallow rapidly and dry extensively at low water, here the beach area is used by local owners to careen their vessels. Local fishermen have used the harbour facilities since its inception. In recent years more and more commercial vessels have been utilizing the Port and occupying the quay. These are primarily, small bulk carriers engaged in the export of bulk cement manufactured at the Fujairah Cement factory at Dibba. In addition, coastal petroleum products tankers regularly berth for the discharge of bunker fuels for the factory complex. Dibba Sea Port now operates as an independent entity with overall responsibility originating from its parent organization, the Fujairah Port Authority. There is an Administration Department, Marine Department, Customs and Security offices all with their backup personnel and communications systems.

C.M.B. TRANSPORT, A GROWING FORCE IN CONTAINER TRAFFIC

International transportation group C.M.B, based in Belgium, has considerably developed its activities over the past years. The group, in business since 1985, realized a turnover in 1990 of approximately USD 2 billion.

The growth CMB has witnessed over the last three years followed a corporate restructuring, regrouping CMB's activities in three major divisions: one for liner and intermodal transport, another for marine transport of bulk cargoes and a third one for the group's port handling activities in Belgium.

The liner and intermodal division, being the largest, is operated under the name of CMB Transport. In 1990 CMB Transport moved some 430.000 container units world-wide, especially on the North - South trading routes.

The division operates some 14 regular liner services, the most important of which covers the trades between Europe, East Africa, the Middle East and India/Pakistan, under the name CMB Indian Ocean Services (CMB IOS).

CMB IOS started operations in June 89 with nine cellular container vessels, providing weekly sailings between North-West Europe, the Mediterranean and the Indian Ocean and Arabian Gulf/Gulf of Oman.

In April 1990 the Tiger Service of Merzario was integrated in CMB IOS, following the takeover of Merzario's shipping activities by CMB Transport.

The service has met success with shippers in all trading areas served. Direct ports of call in the Indian Ocean basin are Fujairah/Dubai for the Middle East; J.N.P. (Bombay) and Karachi for the Indian Sub Continent and Mombasa and Dar-Es-Salaam for East Africa. In Europe CMB IOS container vessels call at la Spezia (Italy), Barcelona/Valencia (Spain), Lisbon/Lexoes (Portugal), Hamburg (Germany), Antwerp (Belgium) and Felixstowe (UK).

CMB Indian Ocean Services and Merzario Marittima offer their clientele a complete service featuring a professional organization, weekly fixed day sailings, fast and reliable transit times and efficient intermodal possibilities of an acceptable cost.

As a result the trade has largely supported the service which celebrated the shipment of its 100,000th container in October 1990, less than a year and a half after the service started off.
